Lots of folks ate lots of crawfish on Saturday at the club's annual boil. Chef Steve LaBorde and assistant Larry Sallee cooked up about 100 pounds of the biggest, bestest, reddest, spiciest mud bugs ever. Other members brought tasty sides and desserts. If you missed it you missed a great meal and a fine time.

Vice Commodore's Report

We still have painting and mower shed projects that need to be wrapped up. Swapping out the clubhouse trim boards will probably wait for the heat to break this fall. However, the white fence is ready for a coat.

Still waiting on owners to tag their outboards. If you're interested in selling a motor it is very difficult to coordinate with a prospective buyer if we don't know the owner.

Mosquito season is in full swing. Please keep you trailered boat drained of rain water.

Congratulations are in order for those who got their expired boat stickers updated. Still several to go. If you need help getting yours applied then stop by the club and draft somebody to assist. A razor blade is useful for removing old stickers.

Clean up Roster: There have been some changes due to member turnover. I was also alerted to a few members that missed the first list. Here's a quick look at the next several weeks. There is a copy of the full year posted on the club bulletin board and web site. Two members are listed for each week so most of us make the list twice a year.

POINTS TO PONDER:

Do un-sheared sheep shrink in the rain?

Why are there interstates in Hawaii?

Can chubby people really skinny dip?

What is so odd about the number one?

The sign says KEEP OFF THE GRASS.
So, how did it get there?
